COMMITTEE OF PUBLIC COMPORT.

It is evident that the vast multitude of people coming from all parts of the country | made the essay. to attend the Centennial will fill the hotels to overflowing, but there is plenty of room in the city for all who may come, provided there is some system of locating the visitors Galveston, Detroit, New Orleans, St. Louis, adopted.

There should be a Committee of Public Comfort, to whom all applications for rooms beyond the capacity of the hotels should be referred and given prompt attention.

To this Committee all persons desirous of renting rooms during the continuance of the Centennial should report, giving number of guests they can accommodate, price, evidences of respectability, etc. Such a Committee would be a great benefit to the Centennial visitors, and contribute as much as any one thing to the success of the festivities.

This is an eminently practical suggestion. Such a Committee should be formed at once.

A NOTABLE EXCEPTION.

There is at least one Republican who does not expect an office at the hands of the present Administration. His name is J. SCHUYLER CROSBY, and he has had RUSSELL HARRISON arrested for libel.

DO ONE POPULAR THING.

If the Committee in charge of the line of march of the Centennial parade want to do at least one decidedly popular thing they will promptly change the route and give the people a chance to gather in Union Square to witness the pageant. If the Committee doesn't make the change the Legislature is all ready to do it. Don't miss your opportunity, gentlemen of the Committee.

NOT AN BASY JOB.

Lord Dunnaven can make up his mind that he will not easily wrest the yachting trophy from America this year.

Anybody would have to hunt long in the lexicon of American yachtsmen to find such a word as " fail."

HARRISON AND A RACE WAR.

Perplexing Complications Over Alabama's White and Black Republicans.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. WASHINGTON, 'April 12, -President Harrison ill have a full-fledged race war on his hands

There have been several minor skirmishes already, and to-day the engagement became general, so far as Alabama is concerned.

Soon after the President was inaugurated a crowd of colored Alabama Republicans made haste to the political Mesca to assure Mr. Harrison that they would never forsake him.

Then Birmingham sent up a delegation of white Republicans whose duty it was to see that their brunette competitors did not capture everything.

their brunette competitors did not capture everything.

The white men held a caucus and parcelled out the offices to white men exclusively.

That raised a howl from the other delegation, and now the atmosphere in the vicinity of the White House is shaken by a very perplexing and annoving combination of claims and protests.

The Prevident said this morning that the offices would be given to the Republicans who were best fitted for them.

'I know no race nor color in the Republican party, 'said be. 'Each candidate will stand on his merits.'

This is regarded as a promise to stand by the whites, and the colored brethren are very much excited and threaten all sorts of vengeance on the party and its leaders.

WORCESTER'S BABY INCUBATOR.

A Massachusetts Repetition of the Late Succeas at the Ward's Island Nursery.

SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I WORCESTER, Mass., April 12 .- A baby born thirteen weeks too soon is being kept alive in an incubator made out of a dry-goods box

The heat is kept up by means of bottles of hos water, and moisture is supplied to the air by a damp sponge.

The baby is thriving nicely, and now weighs two and three-quarter pounds. Its mother is Mrs. Onesime Brisette, of 74 Prescott street.

How His Life Was Saved.

JERSET CITY, Ocs. 9, 1887. DEAR SIR: I wish to thank you for the great good ! have received from taking your COMPOUND SARSAVAL-ILLA. I can honestly say that (indirectly) it has saven MY LIFE, for had is not been for that I feel sure that I could not have continued to earn a living for myself and family. I had been suffering for over five years with ter-rible pains in the head, which at times almost drove me rible bains in the head, which at times almost drove me easy. For eighteen months I suffered all the horrors of malaxia, being confined to bed for weeks at a time, I could get no cure; doctor after dector tried in vain, I could get no cure; doctor after dector tried in vain, I could get no cure; doctor after dector tried in vain, a could get no cure; I got worse and worse; my hands, atma, head, &c., became a mass of cores, which would not head up; my blood was indeed in a TRANIBLE COMPITION, and I had about made up my mand that I would never get well, when a friend told me about your Ochrotypi Banasyanilla, and I sent to your sore for three bottles. I commenced taking it as once; before I had taken the first bettle up I commenced fait better, and—well, to make this long story short, the thinge bottles cured me; I am as well to-day as I seer was in my life. I've never had a handachs or lost a day's and the steer. The screen had a handachs or lost a day's a state of the steer was the country of the steer was the country. NO REAL WEATHER PROPHET.

TTE EVENING WORLD" REGRETS THAT NO ONE IS ENTITLED TO THE $100 WEATHER PRIZE.

Inst 1.240 Prophets Tried to Name Winter's Coldest Three Days Some Guessed Dec. 22, Some Feb. 23 and Some Feb. 24, but No One Person Guessed Even Two of Them,

The EVENING WORLD inaugurated last Autmn the earliest Winter sport of the three months which make your ears tingle. It was the musement of guessing which would be the coldest three days of the Winter.

One hundred dollars in gold was offered to the amateur or professional weather prophet who should make three happy guesses, and no less than 1,240 readers of THE EVENING WORLD

So great was the interest called forth by the contest that guessers were received from Port-land, Ore.; North Anson, Me.; Orangeville, Ont.; Colony, Fayette County, Tex.; Chicago, Memphis, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Calicoon

Memphis, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Calicoon Depot, N. Y.; Cairo, N. Y.; Hawley, Pa.; Birmingham, Mich.; Patchogue, L. I.; Pough-keepsie, Elmira, Lowell, Mass., and forty other cities and towns in half a dozon States.

The coldest three days of last Winter, as is learned officially from the Weather Bureau, were Dec. 22 and Feb. 23 and 24.

The Evening World regrets to find that among all the 1,240 guessors no one guessed these three days.

Strange as it may seem, no one guessed two of the days. One thousand one hundred and eixty-four of those who entered the contest failed to guess one of the days. Only 76 were successful in guessing one of the coldest three days.

ancesarul in guessing one of the condessed days.

Of the 76 wise prophets 28 guessed the 22d of December, 33 the 23d of February and 15 the 24th of February, which was the coldest day of the Winter.

The favorite days with the contestants were Dec. 27, Jan. 3, 17 and 19 and Feb. 3, none of which was one of the three coldest days. While only 15 people chose the 24th of February more than 60 selected each of the days mentioned.

more than 60 selected each of the days mentioned.

H. F. Keely, of 110 South First street, Brocklyn, guessed the 23d of February, and Francis Keely, of the same house, guesad the 24th of February. A. H. Satter, of Tremton, N. J., guessed the 23d of December and the 22d of February. If he had named the 22d of December and the 23d of February he would have had the coldest two days.

Three of the contestants chose the 20th, 21st and 22d of February, being two days ahead of the coldest two days.

Many of the contestants failed to guess the month in which a coldest day occurred, for they chose January. Some selected the same date in each of the three Winter months as Dec. 6, Jan. 6 and March 8.

The result may well shake the popular faith in wasther prophets and in what is called "blind luck."

weather prophets and in what is called "blind luck,"
"Wiggins, jr.," guessed far out of the way.
The man who prophesied "on the authority of a Gypsy," came nowhere near being right. A prophet of ill-omen who predicted a blizzard, didn's name a single correct day.
"The standard baseball wheather prophet" got two of his goldest days in the wrong month. A man who founded his prediction on the "aching of his bones," got all the days wrong.

THE MOTHER OF RUDOLPH.

HER PITIFUL MENTAL STATE AND PA-THETIC PROPOSAL OF SELF-IMMOLATION.

IBY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION. LONDON, April 12.—The Empress of Austria is till a great sufferer. Her physical condition causes anxiety, and symptoms of mental depresdon make it advisable that she should be carefully watched. Prince Rudolph's death. She dwells upon it incessantly, and has thrown out hints of suicide as the only refuge from her grief.

To complicate this distressing situation she insists that the Emperor procure a divorce on the ground of the necessity of the State and marry again in order to secure a direct heir to the House of Hapsburg and the Imperial throne.

This idea of immolation of self is one of the most pathetic features of Her Majesty's affliction. Prince Rudolph's death. She dwells upon it in-

Every effort is made to distract her mind from it, but so far without avail.

IT'S A WOMAN'S PARADISE.

Brilliant Display of Spring Goods at Lord & Taylor's Grand Street Store.

The brilliant Spring opening at Lord & Taylor's large Grand street store of new and attractive goods drew throngs of sight-seers and shoppers to-day. The thirty-nine departments of the great shop are more interesting and a great deal wider awake than an Oriental bazaar.

In the millinery department was a bright display of imported artificial flowers as perfect as those in the Park and two weeks earlier. Among those in the Park and two weeks earlier. Among the leading styles of cloaks are the Modieska in the leading styles of cloaks are the Modjeska in all colors, the favorite ones being tans and drabs; the Directoire, the Connemara, the Killarney, the Newmarket and the Ragian.

Noticeable in the shawl department are camel's-hair India shawls, offered at reduced prices, from $50 to $800; Summer cashmere and Shetiand wool shawls, broche shawls, imported silk-stripe shawls, imitation India shawls and woollen shawls.

The display of suite and tea gowns and Spring hate is exceptionally fine. American flags with forty-two stars, are on sale at very cheap prices for Centennial decorations.

Cost $500 to Put a Newsboy Off the "L." Martin Brock, a newsboy, has just got a $500 rerdict against the Elevated road for being ejected from a Sixth avenue train with his bun-dle of afternoon papers. The suit was in Comone of atternoon papers. The suit was it Common Pleas, before Judge Van Hoosen, and the testimony was that two of the company's conductors seized Brock and another newsby named knopf and forcibly put them off, although they had paid their fares and were orderly. The claim was that Brock had sold one evening paper in defiance of the rule.

PRINCE RUSSELL'S BAD FIX.

THAT $100,000 LIBEL SUIT.

Russell B. Harrison, son of the President. whose arrest yesterday afternoon in the suit of Col. John Schuyler Crosby for $100,000 damages for libel was fully related in yesterday's Sporting Extra of THE EVENING WORLD, returned to Washington on the 12,15 Pennsylvania Railroad train this morning.;

He was accompanied by William A. Sweetser, of his counsel, and his only statement to the reporters regarding Col. Crosby's complaint was that it was " rot." The arrest of Harrison is the talk of the town to-day.

Ex-Gov. Crosby's complaint sets forth that the article complained of was published in April, 1887, in the Montana Live Stock Journal, which paper is owned by a company of which Russell Harrison is and was at that time President; that the publication of the article was instigated by Mr. Harrison, who caused to be gated by Mr. Harrison, who caused to be written as an introduction to the article matter in the way of editorial comment; that he wanted the whole attack printed on the editorial page as editorial matter, and was very angry when this desire was not heeded by the editor of the paper who knew the matter was libelious, and that the publication was false and malictous.

These latter details are supported by an affidavit from Leslie Sugrave, who was then editor of the Montana Lite Stock Journal.

The article was copied from the Buffalo Commercial. Col. Crosby wrote, remonstrating with the editor of the Commercial, and after an investigation the Commercial published a retraction and apology.

The original article, reproduced by Mr. Harrison's Daper, was as follows:

The married daughter of a very rich member of Congress, who has been here with her father for two Winters, her husband out secompanying her, has her name on men's lips in a way that has shanged the expression of her shallow, perty has our off her shallow, perty has one of Bernharded haunted look that was a law it in the midst of a box party, a best more has law it in the midst of a box party, a best more tragic than anything I saw going on upon that the shallow has been made to be shallowed by the private describe he employed for their recovery to the possession of a certain ex Consul of our Government to a Spanish city, who is also an ex-Territorial Governor, an ex-huncitoury of the Post-Office Department under a late Admistration, but who has had ne visible means of support this Winter while engaged in his congenial role here of man about town and desperate lady masher, the terrified daughter did not dare testify against him what wretched secret be held as the price of her forbearance no one knows. The detective was handsomely paid and dismissed, the man's Club has cut him, its said, and the women are devouring their indiscreet, if not erring, sister by piece meal.

The lady reforred to was Mrs. Richard Town-said, and the women are devouring their indiscreet, if not erring, sister by piece meal.

The lady referred to was Mrs. Richard Townsend, the daughter of Col. Thomas L. Scott, Congressman from the Erie District, Pennsylvania; and as Col. Crosby had been Governor of Montana, and afterwards First Assistant Postmaster-General under President Arthur, and was at one time in the United States Consular service at Florence, on the Arno River, ft plainly referred to him.

When Col. Crosby was Governor of Montana he and Russell B. Harrison became enemies over the summary dismissal of Major Brady Wilkins from his position in the Assay Office at Helena, Mon., over which Russell Harrison was chief. Wilkins was reinstated by the Director of the Mint at Washington at Gov. Crosby's request, and the feud was made more bitter.

When Russell Harrison's paper reproduced the Commercial's article it prefaced it with this headline and introduction.

It Might have been expected. IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN EXPECTED.

And following the article was this paragraph: No one who knows the subject of this sketch will for a moment doubt its truthfulness. During his stay in Montans he was a loader and a social leper. No respectable woman could associate with him without having her reputation severely tarnished.

Following as it did upon the heels of his unsavory records in foreign lands, it forms a fit chapter in the life of a loafer and libertine, for to become a diamond this is the legitimate end of such a career.

Begismate end of such a career.

De Lancey Nicoll, who drew up Col. Crosby's complaint as above, says: 'Russell B. Harrison's not only republished the Commercial story, but added a hitter personal attack upon (iov. Crosby's official conduct and personal character. We have the original manuscript of the article. It is in the hand of Isaac D. McCutcheon, Mr. Harrison's lawyer and personal and political friend.

'The only explanation that I have heard for Mr. Harrison's refusal to avologize is that he fears that the confession would interfere and hurt his chances as a candidate before the Montana Legislature for the United States Senatorship from the new State.
